Keynote Speaker: Sherra Humphreys

Real Life Lesson: Self Care & Balance

The art of self-care can be difficult to master. Make an appointment with yourself and listen to how a real life business owner and mom of four has learned how to take care of herself and helped hundreds of other women do the same. Sherra Humphreys will share how she juggles work, family and real life and still manages to find time to rest and relax in today's busy world.

What others are saying: "Sherra is the funniest woman I know. Not only is her training the most entertaining presentation you will attend, but it is the most honest look at life and business you will hear for years to come. Her training is the very best at sending you home, not only entertained, but honestly feeling like you have a plan to go home and put to use. She delivers a 1-2-3 step plan that you can customize specifically to fit the needs in your life/business." - Lori

Fashion Show: Pamela's Boutique & Brides Number One
